CRAFTING A 5-YEAR PLAN

Ever wonder how to position your scholarly work for funding and colleagues? In this session, Vicky will engage with participants to explore strategies for designing a 5-year research plan including:

- How to articulate your program of research
- How to strategize for funding
- How to build a professional network of collaborators and partners

BIO: Dr. Bungay's research focuses on addressing inequities that negatively affect people's health and well-being including the devastating effects of stigma, discrimination, and violence. She explores how research partnerships can positively impact communities that are excluded in health and social policy; programming that affects their lives; and how community-based interventions support real world evidence.
